Looking to save money?

Use Falcon's Routed Same Day Service, it focuses on the needs of customers who have regular, scheduled pick-up and delivery requirements. A cost effective alternative to our on-demand service!

Roadside Emergency Kit

Remember: some breakdowns are unavoidable. Do yourself a favor and save some room in your trunk for the following items. They could turn a potential trip-wrecker into nothing more than an unexpected pit stop:

- *Screwdrivers/wrenches various sizes
- *Jumper cables
- *A jack and tire iron
- *A can of "Fix-a-Flat" for temporarily sealing and inflating a flat tire
- *Water for both the radiator and yourself
- *Emergency flares and reflectors
- *Gloves
- *Blanket and towel
- *Flashlight

Don't forget to Check Your Tires

Tires are one of the most overlooked parts of a car. According to the Rubber Manufacturers Association (RMA), only one out of 10 drivers checks his or her tire pressure correctly, compared with almost seven out of 10 who wash their cars regularly. But the truth is that an under-inflated, over-inflated, worn down or misaligned tire can be extremely dangerous, particularly in hot summer weather.

Hats Off to FXT Management

SmartCEO magazine recognizes 100 CEOs based on their leadership, strategy and character. Falcon's CEO/President Joe Ashkin was chosen as one of 2009's Smart100. He has succeeded in managing a solid company and doubling it in size. Ashkin is praised for his business model, persistence, determination and most importantly his dedicated staff. Way to go, Joe!

Maryland Same Day Messenger Courier Association has chosen Frank Callahan who once was a FXT messenger, HR Manager and now our Director of Administration to head the association. As president, he will help lead MD courier companies in preserving industry choice in classification of workers and strengthening the safety standards of Maryland delivery companies.

Driver Spotlight:

4271

David Daniels

David has been with FXT since Sept '07, he drives in the morning for Falcon Overnight. He is contracted as a floater which is one of our more demanding driving positions requiring excellent area knowledge and the ability to move quickly and to problem solve in difficult situations. He also runs a bank route in the afternoons. Many of the FXT managers commend David for being a positive team player and covering routes with little to no notice. We commend David for his dedication to FXT and enjoy having him as part of our team!
